Our FREE Catalogues for SD1, Triumph, MG Rover & Land Rover are your passport to the Finest Parts Service.

This supplement should be used in conjunction with our SD1 Catalogue (edition 2.2) as it features many new products and stock now available since our catalogue was printed. Specifically, it updates our SD1 INDIA parts consignment brochure to reflect the stock that has now been sold and also consolidated into new warehousing and storage facilities.

We still have thousands of parts available - at very affordable prices!

It also includes SURPLUS* buy in stock we have purchased from several Rover Specialists over the last few years.

PRICES

Please note: The prices indicated in this supplement were correct at the time of printing (July 2018). Please check our website or contact us to confirm prices.

\ These offers are identified by blue or red panels in this supplement.*

To help identify the surplus stock and new products that we now have on offer in this supplement, we have created a different look to the product information panels from those of the India stock - see example on the left.

We have featured nearly 200 new products that we believe will be of interest to SD1 enthusiasts. Such is the scale of these buy-ins, there is simply not enough space to show them all here, so if you are looking for that obscure, previously NLA part, give us a try - we may well have it! Alternatively, if you have the original Rover part number, key it in our website and check for availability.

ROVER SD1 Parts Consignment from India

In 2006, Rimmer Bros purchased a massive consignment of brand new, factory original Rover SD1 parts originating from Standard Motor Products in Madras (now Chennai), India. In total there were twenty two, 40ft containers full to the brim shipped to the UK!

SD1 India - The Story

PART OF THE FACTORY SITE

The History

It is a well known fact that the Rover SD1 was sold in India as the 'Standard 2000' in the mid 80's by Standard Motor Products of Madras (now called Chennai), India.

Towards the end of production in the UK, CKD (Completely Knocked Down) kits were sold by Austin Rover to the Indian company for assembly overseas using their own variant of 4 cylinder (2 litre) petrol engine (part Vanguard/TR4/P6 Rover 2000) and gearbox (4 speed, based on Triumph).

Bodyshells were built using partially made up sub assemblies such as rear quarter panels, front inner flitches, rear floors (which included chassis legs), main floors and bulkheads which made final assembly relatively straightforward. These sub assemblies and all other bodywork (including front wings, doors, bonnets, tailgates, sills, roof panels and A/B/C/D pillars) were carefully packed in huge wooden crates (designed to fit snugly width and height wise into containers) with greased paper to preserve them.

Mechanical components such as brakes, suspension and body fittings were packed in large steel bins, each individual carton being carefully numbered and logged and ready to build the Standard 2000.

BONNETS AND TAILGATES
REMOVED FROM A CRATE

It is unclear as to exactly how many cars were built between 1985 & 1988 in India, but they struggled to sell. This was a factor that eventually sealed the fate of SMPI who also made other cars and mini buses from their large 50 acre factory site on the outskirts of Madras. The whole site had been closed and under guard for over 15 years with no-one allowed in or anything allowed out - a unique 'time warp' situation.

The plan was for Austin Rover to eventually ship over all the SD1 tooling so that SMPI could manufacture the car from scratch - but this never happened - it got as far as the docks in the UK - as SMPI went bust and the whole project stopped. These facts were backed up by David Bishop (ex MD of British Motor Heritage) who at the time was involved with product procurement for the CKD SD1.

The Rimmer Bros Deal

There were approximately 600 unused kits at the SMPI site where they had remained since then, stored in 5 warehouses. Such is the protracted legal process in India, the site and stock were not disposed of until 2005). Rimmer Bros got to hear about the stock during the summer of 2005 although at first there was disbelief that all this stock existed after all this time. It wasn't until late 2005 that some photo's arrived of some of the stock - still in its original packaging - and the enormity of what there was became real.

The stock was originally offered for sale at a price that would not have been commercially viable for anyone to take on - let alone support an enthusiastic following for SD1's both in the UK and overseas.

A visit to India in February 2006 to view the stock and negotiate price resulted in a deal being struck to repatriate almost all the stock back to the UK.

MASSIVE BODYWORK CRATES

Tough decisions had to be made about what to leave behind and scrap. Obviously some stock had suffered due to damp, high heat and humidity (the annual monsoon seasons didn't help either). Other stock was worthless or didn't warrant the container and shipping costs.

We had to estimate what would be in demand for the foreseeable future - and leave some of it behind. Of the vast amount of stock returned to the UK, some of it has sold very quickly.

DOORS GET A HELPING HAND

The Stock

When we visited India, we saw crates and crates full of brand new perfectly preserved genuine parts just as they had left Austin Rover all those years ago. There were even original packing slips inside the boxes!

Remarkably, the stock is preserved extremely well and has not suffered in storage at all. Notable exceptions are strut leg bump stops (crumbled to dust!) and door weather strips (hard & brittle) - these parts, we have since remanufactured. Some other parts are simply dusty and a quick clean will reveal a brand new part (eg door seals, plastic underbody panels and bonnet sound insulation pads). Body panels, doors, bonnets, tailgates etc are supplied in a 'body in white' production wax coating which can easily be removed before priming. We should also warn customers to expect handling marks, small dings/dents on body panels - they have travelled a long way - although the prices we have set for these items make full allowance for this possibility. Please do not purchase these panels if you expect 100% perfection at these prices.

Due to the fact SMPI used their own engine and gearbox, there are no such components in the consignment (apart from some mountings, 2 litre carbs, PAS components and other ancillaries). Additionally, seats, door panels, carpets, headlining etc were all supplied locally as were bumpers (which we have now remanufactured). We do not foresee this as a problem to an SD1 owner, due to the plentiful supply of secondhand parts generally being available in the market.

It should be noted that all the stock is for 1982 onwards model year (RHD) vehicles however, many parts are non-year specific and are therefore suitable for any model. Please ask if unsure.

CONTAINER BEING
LOADED IN INDIA

The Prices

We have incurred significant costs in not only shipping the parts back to the UK, but also additional warehousing and storage, handling and sorting. Since the initial arrival of the stock, we have consolidated and re-warehoused the majority of the bulk stocks, offering long-term availability and affordability. However, such is the volume of product, we are still in a position to offer remarkable value for money.

SAVE AND BUY A KIT

India Kits

Want to save even more money?

We include a car set of everything out of each section that relates to the India stock. For example, an Electrical Kit includes all the items shown in the electrical section marked India. (The contents of each kit are shown to the right). If there is more than one item per car, then we include the quantity required (eg. 7 window lift switches will be supplied). Where there is more than 1 variant of a part, we state which is/not included as appropriate in the relevant section.

It's also an easy way to order everything with 1 part number.

The savings are shown in the table by comparing the standard price to the kit price.

PLEASE NOTE:

The kit contents listed were correct at time of printing (July 2018). Once an individual part becomes no longer available, the item is removed from the kit and the kit price is adjusted. Please refer to our website for up-to-date kit contents.

It may be possible for us to remove unwanted items from kits (with price allowance). This applies where certain parts would be unsuitable for your vehicle, for example, a RHD steering rack would not be required by our European customers.

Body Work

CUSTOMER NOTICE ON BODY PANELS

All body panels have been stored for 30+ years and some shipped 1000's of miles. Please do expect a few handling marks and/or possibly small dings and dents. The prices we have set make full allowance for this possibility. Please do not purchase if you expect 100% perfection at these prices. Most panels are supplied in a 'Body in White' production wax coating which can easily be removed prior to priming. We may also supply factory primed panels from existing stocks once the 'Body in White' panels are sold. Certain factory primed panels are available for additional cost.
